Microsoft Defender Experts Suite

The growing security challenge

Security teams are under extreme pressure, navigating the increased frequency and velocity of cyberattacks driven by AI, an evolving threat landscape, and a growing skills gap.

Given these mounting pressures, the same challenges are consistently top of mind for CISOs and security leaders:

How do I protect against today's AI-driven attacks and stay ahead of emerging threats?

How do I prevent the next breach before it becomes a headline?

Can I find the right expertise to achieve my security objectives?
